AT A MEETING

Of the Alexandria Thespian Society,

IT WAS RESOLVED, That a Committee of Charity be appointed, with discretionary powers, to distribute the surplus money in the Treasury, under the following restrictions: That applications must be testified by two respectable inhabitants of the town, or be individually known to some one of the committee: that it be a principle not to grant money, but in very peculiar cases; and that wood be the chief article of donation: but when applicants have a present supply of that, then clothing to be given; or having both these, then food, meal as the chief, being most substantial; that cases for relief should be, first, persons grown impotent from age, without annuity; second, widows, with families, without income; third, daughters who have to support infirm parents; and fourth, families who want the support of a male head, throughout sickness.

☞ In conformity with the above resolution, the committee

REPORT—That they have determined, in the present instance, to confine their distributions principally in the donations of wood—in the purchase of which a principal portion of their funds have been disbursed. The committee have determined to make a distribution on and after Saturday, the 28th instant: and in the mean time, applications may be handed in agreeably to the above resolution, to ## Virginia Legislature.

Yesterday, the House of Delegates were engaged, three hours in discussing the Resolutions of the Bank Committee, which had passed without amendment through the Committee of the whole.

Mr. King moved their indefinite postponement.

This motion was opposed by Messrs. Doddridge, Hay and Mercer (of L.) and supported by Messrs. Chamberlayne and Blackburn.

Mr Mercer concluded with a hope, that the House would adjourn to give the gentleman over the way (Mr. Tazewell,) an opportunity of speaking, on another day, on this subject.

Mr. King consented to withdraw his motion for the present--when the resolutions were laid on the table---and soon after the House Adjourned.

Dec. 21.

Yesterday, Mr. Scott from the Committee of Schools and Colleges presented a string of Resolutions on the "Report of the P. and D. of the Literary Fund"—these contemplate the following provisions: 1st. in favor of dividing the respective counties into townships, in each of which one or more schools are to be established; 2d. of providing for the government & endowment of such schools: 3d. of laying off (during the present session) the state into districts, in each of which a public Academy is to be located; 4th. of providing for the government of such Academies; 5th. of appointing Commissioners to purchase or receive by donation, in some healthy and central part of the State acres of land, for establishing an University of Virginia; 6th. that it is unnecessary to prescribe by law the number of Professors to be attached to the University; 7th. in favor of adopting all incorporated Academies in which are taught the Latin & French Languages, Mathematics & Geography, provided their Trustees will subject their respective institutions to the government of the P. and D. of the Literary Fund.

On motion of Mr. Grymes, leave was granted to bring in a bill "To reform the Circuit Court System of the State. Mr. G. declared, his object was to restore in a great degree the old District Court system—Messrs. Doddridge and Mercer expressed themselves in favor of retaining the present Circuit System for the Upper Country.

On Mr. Mercer's motion the House took up the Report on the N. Banks, when Mr. King renewed his motion for its postponement to the 31st of March, and the call for the Ayes and Noes.

Mr. Tazewell then addrested the House in opposition to this motion, and in favor of as many new banks as should be petitioned for, restricting those banks to the payment of specie—he spoke nearly three hours—[We have no time for a Sketch at present—but, it shall be furnished in our next paper.

The question was taken on the indefinite postponement of the Resolutions and lost—Ayes 47, Noes 109.

All the resolutions were then gone through and adopted without amendment —when they were sent back to the Select committee to draft the necessary bills. (On this point, Mr. Doddridge intimated his hope that the Committee would bring in a seperate bill for each proposed bank, that each might take its own chance; for, he was well aware, that some gentlemen would vote for one Bank, and some for another.—Mr. Mercer acquiesced in this idea—declaring at the same time he should vote for all the banks contemplated.)

Legislature of Maryland.

Mr. Dorsey has laid on the table the following resolutions:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this general Assembly of Maryland, that the Congress of the United States ought to adopt effective measurers of security for the country watered by the Chesapeake Bay and its tributary streams, against the maritime force of an enemy.

Resolved, That our Senators and Representatives in the Congress of the U. States, be instructed and requested to use their best exertions, to effectuate such legislative acts as may be required for the above object.

Resolved, That his Excellency the governor of Maryland, be requested to forward to His Excellency the Governor of Virginia a copy of the preceding resolutions to be by him submitted to the Legislature, of Virginia, inviting them to co-operate with this state in obtaining that protection, so essential to the honor, the interest and security of the nation,

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be submitted to the Congress of the U. States.

Important from South America.

Mr. M'Fadon, who came passenger in the Highflyer, 32 days from Boquilla de Piedras, has politely communicated to the Editors of the Baltimore Patriot the following important intelligence:

The fort of Monteblanc, which commands the King's Road near the cities of Orizava and Cordova, was captured November 15. by a force of 2,500 Spanish royalists, by means of treachery. Several attacks were repulsed by the fort: but two companies of royalists, throwing down their arms, and rushing into the fort under pretence of joining the patriots having arms put into their hands by the latter, in the night rose upon them and in conjunction with the troops without, subdued the garrison.

Gen. Vittoria, the patriot commander of the province, was in his turn besieging the royalists—he had a force blockading the cities of Xalapa, Orizava, and Cordova.

The royalists were advancing from Vera Cruz, 1000 strong, upon Boquilla, which is garrisoned by only 75 men, & would probably have to surrender.

The Fort of Guazolcos was attacked in the month of October last, by general Teran, who was defeated with the loss of 400 men. Wm. D. Robinson, Esq. was killed among them.

Charleston, December 16.

WEST-INDIES.

A gentleman, who arrived here on Friday last from St. Bartholomews, informs us, that the sugar crops in the different West India islands, promised to be very abundant. Flour was selling at St. Barts, 22d ult. at 11½ in barter for produce, and was expected to decline still lower; not a dollar of money could be had. The American vessels at Martinique and Guadaloupe, have suffered dreadfully by sickness, and in some instances every man on board had died. and the French government were obliged to take possession of the vessel. Two Northern brigs, destined for this port, were at St. Barts; a large portion of the crew of one of them had died.

December 17.

A most wicked and diabolical attempt was made to poison the passengers, officers and crew of the packet schooner Maria, captain Latham, arrived on Sunday evening from New-York. Providentially however, though eight persons partook of the poisoned dish, but one fell a victim to its deleterious operation. This ill fated young man was Mr. John Benjamin, whose place of residence was, we understand, in North Carolina. The poison, supposed to be arsenic, was mixed with a dish of hash, for breakfast; and every person who tasted it, was almost immediately attacked with violent vomiting. As soon as discovered, every precaution was used to prevent its effect, by using castor oil, abstaining from water, &c. Mr. Benjamin died in 24 hours after eating the poisoned meat, it is supposed, from having indulged the use of water. The other sufferers, amongst whom was captain Latham, tho' they underwent great pain and suffering, have nearly recovered. This circumstance took place when the Maria had been about four days out of New-York.

Very little doubt is entertained that this atrocious act was committed by John Gibson, a free black man. cook of the vessel, to vent his resentment at having been censured for neglect of duty, just before leaving New York. He was heard to utter some threats of this nature whilst there and on the morning of the above catastrophe, he turned a boy out of the cambouse whilst making the fatal hash.—The unhappy wretch pretended also to have eaten of the dish, and affected to vomit, but it was discovered by those around him, that it was all a sham. He was lodged in the guard house as soon as the vessel arrived, and has since been fully committed for trial.

Ship Thomas, Dangerfield, Norfolk: cargo flour and butter—by James Sanderson.

Charleston, Dec. 16.

Arrived Brig Mercator, Pemberton, London, 48 days. Left British brig Ann, for this port, to sail 5th November. On the 30th ult. at about 11 o'clock, A. M. capt. Pemberton discovered a ship to leeward, steering E. S. E. and close hauled; as soon as she had got abreast of the Mercator, she fired a gun to leeward and hoisted a Portuguese ensign; not wishing to speak her, capt. Pemberton merely hoisted his colors and proceeded on his course. The ship then wore, and being a prime sailer, easily ran to windward of the Mercator, hailed her, and after having been furnished with the destination, &c. said he would send a boat on board. Two persons, without side arms or any badge of rank whatever, then boarded the Mercator; one of them spoke very good English, but appeared to be a native of Portugal; the boat's crew spoke Portuguese; the utmost caution was shewn in replying to various questions put relative to the destination of the ship; all that could be gathered from the officers was, that she had been two months on a cruise (but the boat's crew intimated that Havaana was the last port that they had left) and that her name was the Palma. The persons boarding behaved with civility, and their only request was for a butt or two of water, and added they were going home, but where could not be learnt. Both officers and men were anxious to know and examine whether there was any cargo on board; all of them seemed to direct their attention to the state of the hold, and the first thing they did was to look down the hatches, which they partly opened; they took the name of the vessel and the consignees in this port: The boat then put off, and capt. P. was proceeding to make sail, when the officer in rather an authoritative tone, desired he would not do so, until his own colors were hauled down. The ship then stood on her old course for a short time, but for 30 or 40 minutes bore away to the Southward, and again resumed her former one, and was soon out of sight. The ship appeared to be American built, about 300 tons, coppered, painted black, with a female figure head, mounted 16 guns, was very full of prime seamen, and carried top gallant cross trees; she also had a poop and top gallant forecastle. She appeared to wish to be thought a man of war, but carried no pendant, and no person on board was distinguished by an uniform. He seemed to keep a good look out, two men being kept on the top gallant yard, and very much wished for some newspapers.

The Life of Patrick Henry.

PROPOSAL

By James Webster, of Philadelphia, for publishing by Subscription,

THE LIFE OF

The late Patrick Henry,

Containing many of his Speeches, &c. Embellished with a Likeness: By Wm. Wirt, Esq. of Richmond, (Va.)

Extract from the Port Folio for August, 1815.

"It is not without a sentiment of sincere gratification that we witness, in the following proposal, arrangements making by a competent hand, to do justice to the character of one of the most worthy and distinguished of our countrymen. As a statesman, a civilian, an orator and a patriot, Patrick Henry was entitled to stand in the foremost rank: Nor do his merits claim an inferior station as a firm, an honest, and an honorable man. He was one of those worthies on whose purity suspicion could never fix a stain.

"If nature did much for Mr. Henry's character while living, accident has not been wanting in its favors to his posthumous fame: for to have found such a biographer as Mr. Wirt, so competent as a writer, and so peculiarly well qualified in every moral relation, is not the least fortunate incident in his history.

"In Mr. Wirt's Life of Patrick Henry we are irresistably impelled to expect much: the materials being excellent, and in great abundance, and the writer able and devoted to his subject. Nor do we think that the public will run any risk of being disappointed by bearing us company in our high expectations. We hope, and, indeed, have no doubt that the work will receive a liberal patronage."

CONDITIONS.

The work will be printed on a fine paper, in one octavo volume, and will contain from 350 to 400 pages.

It will be delivered to subscribers, in good calf binding, at three dollars per copy. The price to non subscribers will be three dollars and fifty cents.

Land for Sale

A tract or parcel of Land, containing between two and three hundred acres, on the north side of Occoquan, in Fairfax county, about 5 miles west of Occoquan mills. It is well watered with never failing springs, it is also well timbered, and the great quantity of fur timber on it renders it the more valuable to any person in the coopering line. This land is of the middle soil, and produces corn, wheat or any other grain tolerable well—there is about 100 acres cleared and under good fence. The improvements are a log dwelling house & other out houses, and a good apple orchard of about sixty trees.

ALSO.

One other tract in the same county, within three miles of Occoquan, lying on Sandy Run, containing 47 acres—one half in cultivation and under good fence, the remainder heavily timbered. There are on the premises an old framed dwelling house and out houses and an apple orchard of eighty bearing trees.

Any person inclining to purchase can view the premises and know the terms by applying to the subscriber who lives near them.

Mutual Assurance Society.

At a meeting of the Standing Committee of the Mutual Assurance Society against fire on buildings of the State of Virginia, held on Monday the 11th day of November, 1816—

It being the day fixed by the constitution of the Mutual Assurance Society against fire on buildings of the State of Virginia, for a general meeting of the said Society to be formed, and a sufficient number of members in person or by proxy, not attending to form such meeting, it was Resolved by the Standing Committee aforesaid, in conformity with the first section of the first article of the said constitution, that the said general meeting be adjourned to the first Monday in January next.

Public Notice therefore is hereby given, that the said general meeting be adjourned, and stands adjourned to the first Monday in January next, 1817, when it is particularly desired that there shall be a full meeting of the Members of the Society, as matters of the utmost importance will be laid before them touching the interest and prosperity of the institution.

By order of the Standing Committee.

JAMES RAWLINGS, P. Agent of the M. A. Society.

Form of the writing to constitute a proxy for the above meeting:

—— Member of the Mutual Assurance Society against fire on buildings of the State of Virginia, do hereby constitute and appoint —— —— to attend the General Meeting of the said Society to be held in Richmond on the first Monday in January next, 1817, as proxy, to vote and act on —— behalf on any business which may come before the said meeting as fully as if —— —— personally present.

In testimony whereof —— hereunto set —— hand & seal — the day of —— 181 .

Valuable Tanyard for Sale OR RENT.

THE subscriber wishing to remove from the state of Virginia, will sell low, or rent for a term of years, his Tanyard at Occoquan, consisting of 44 vats, houses sufficient to contain several hundred cords of bark, and embracing almost every convenience for carrying on the business extensively. Attached to the tanyard is a very comfortable dwelling house, with out houses. The purchaser or tenant can have the stock of bark, leather, etc. at valuation, for cash or on short credit, by giving satisfactory security.

Occoquan, 12 mo 19 d2w

Public Sale.

WILL be sold, at public auction, on Tuesday the 7th day of January next, being the second day of Prince William Court; at the late residence of Alexander Henderson, of Dumfries; all the personal property at the mansion house. It is useless to enumerate it particularly, but amongst many other articles are such as follow:

A large quantity of bedding of superior quality: a piano: an elegant violin: a new fashionable carriage with plated harness and a pair of horses: 3 milch cows: 40 or 50 hams of prime old bacon valuable carpeting: tea ware and glass ware, etc. etc.

On this property a credit of 9 months will be given, the purchaser giving bond and security, bearing interest from the date if not paid punctually.

Five slaves are for sale, viz. a first rate female cook, a likely well tutored girl of 14, a young man of good character a rough blacksmith, and two valuable farming negro men, one about 25, the other about 35 years old. The one about 25, to be sold as near Fauquier courthouse as may be, to be near his wife, and the other for a like reason near Leesburg. Inman Horner, Esq. will sell the youngest. These people may be seen at Dumfries till the day of sale, and on that day, but will not be publicly exposed—the executor does not deal with foreign purchasers or their agents—they need not call, and are asked not to do so. Cash will be asked for the servants.

The dwelling house itself with its appurtenances will be sold on very moderate and accommodating terms. The house is spacious and convenient; the out houses are good, and the garden prepared with great labor and taste, so as to be at once remarkably productive and handsome. The society of the village is very agreeable and a bargain may be had in this property.

R. H. HENDERSON,

acting executor of Alex. Henderson deceased.

ROBBERY.

On the night of the 6th of December, 1816, the Exchange Office of the subscriber, Bridge street, Georgetown, from appearances by a false key was robbed of the following property, in Specie, consisting of dollars, change, American and English gold, about 200 dollars; bank notes, mostly three dollar notes of the bank of Washington, and some small tickets, together about 30 dollars, a one pound note of the bank of England, and one hundred and sixty four lottery tickets as per numbers below. The lottery tickets can be of no use to the person taking them, and an attempt to pass them would only lead to a detection, it is therefore hoped that the person or persons who took them, will return them to the subscriber through the Post Office at Georgetown. A liberal Reward will be paid by the subscriber for any information that may lead to the discovery of the persons or a recovery of the property. All keepers of lottery offices in the United States will please to keep a list of the numbers of the following tickets, as it may lead to a discovery of the theft.

Fauquier Lands.

THE subscriber offers for sale the Estate whereon he resides in the county of Frquier, about 8 miles below the court-house, on Cedar-Run, between the roads leading to Fredericksburgh and Occoquan, 30 miles distant from either place, and 40 to Alexandria by the turnpike, from Buckland. The tract is computed at

Three thousand three hundred and seventy Acres, and is divided into three farms, with Woodland and Meadows, conveniently distributed for each. There is a Valuable Mill Seat,

with stone on the spot for building.—The stream is abundant, and waters the whole tract, presenting an extent of

Four or five hundred Acres of Low Grounds of first quality.—The high land is well divided into regular fields, some of them very productive, and is adapted to the use of Plaister. Few tracts can possess greater advantages either for extensive grazing or grain culture.

The purchaser or purchasers of the land, can be accommodated with the farming utensils, the crops of Corn and the sown Wheat—the stock of Cattle, Horses, Sheep and Hogs; and with the Negroes on the estate in families, making about 150, of a very valuable description, with some tradesmen.

The improvements are a comfortable Dwelling House, with good out Houses, Ice House, Stables, &c. The situation is healthy and the water uncommonly good. Two thirds of the whole purchase money will be required at the delivery of the property, the balance in short payments with interest and secured by a deed of trust.
